FARMERS

FROM PAGE 1

Oregon University. She is also certified as a therapeutic riding instructor and a Master Gardener. Her diverse career has included teaching in public schools, nonprofit administration, development and public relations and educational film making.

Jerry Henning is the Sanctuary's Caretaker. Jerry has over 50 years of animal care and ranch experience. If it needs to be done, Jerry can do it. He has vast experience in skilled trades such as farm equipment repair and maintenance, carpentry, fence mending, welding, horse hoof care, irrigation and a myriad of other skills. Jerry has volunteered with many organizations over the years, including the Josephine County Sheriff's Posse.

As for yours truly, I'm one of the Sanctuary's co-founders and currently volunteer as Executive Director. I grew up on a farm in rural Wisconsin where I learned how to milk a cow before I learned how to read and write. As an adult I have lived and worked all over the U.S. Since moving to Oregon in 2001, I have dedicated myself to nonprofit work with a special interest in promoting community volunteerism. I attended Southern Oregon University where I earned a B.S. in English and Writing, a Master in Management, and a Nonprofit Management Certificate. Before coming to work for the Sanctuary, I previously held local management positions with Friends of the Animal Shelter and the Gordon Elwood Foundation.

The Sanctuary's volunteers, currently numbering about 50 hardy souls, come from all walks of life, and all over the world. It is not unusual to visit us and see fifth-generation Applegaters working alongside an intern from the East Coast who is spending his or her vacation at the Sanctuary because their idea of a good time is taking care of rescued farm animals and planting an organic garden to help feed the poor.

We invite you to make an appointment to stop by and meet us in person, so you can see for yourself that we are decent, hard-working people who strive to be role models for how people, animals, and the earth can work together for mutual healing.
